

BEPM - Built Environment Performance and Materials Management Pro Training

Course Contents

This course teaches metrics-oriented performance management processes to enhance the efficiency and productivity of built environment projects.

Key topics include:

- How to build a project performance strategy?
- The core progress measurement methods, how they work, and when they are useful
- Tools and techniques for effective materials management