- 2. Presentation with LESS ME & MORE WE concept. (20 Minutes)
- 3. The Confusing Chain of Command. (40 Minutes)

Objective: Demonstrate the impact of miscommunication and the importance of clarity in leadership.

Key Team-Building Takeaways:

Highlights the role of clear leadership in teamwork.

Teaches teams how to function in chaos.

Encourages proactive problem-solving.

How to Conduct This Activity

- “You’re about to experience what it’s like to function in a high-stakes, confusing corporate structure. I will divide you into teams, but listen carefully because this is where it gets tricky.”

- “Each team will have a secret leader—but here’s the catch—you don’t know who it is!

In fact, even the leader doesn’t know that they are the leader. Confused?

Perfect. Now

let’s add another twist.”

- “The leader is the only one who holds the key to completing the task, but they will only discover their role as the activity progresses. Meanwhile, everyone else must function with minimal information, following instructions that may not seem to make sense.”

- “You are to complete a task that I will announce in five minutes. Until then, you must work together to identify your leader through deduction, observation, and sheer luck.”

- “Once the leader is identified, the team can attempt the task. The first team to complete it wins, but if they wrongly identify the leader, they must start over. Get ready for confusion, chaos, and a whole lot of fun!”

4. The Misguided Translator and Active Team Work Skills (30 Minutes)

Objective: Highlight the importance of patience, precision, and teamwork in communication.

Key Team-Building Takeaways:

Demonstrates the pitfalls of miscommunication.

Reinforces the importance of active listening.

Encourages careful articulation of information.

How to Conduct This Activity

- “This is a test of communication, patience, and precision. It’s a game we’ve all played before, but today, the stakes are higher. You’ll form a line, and I will whisper a sentence to the first person. Simple enough, right?”
- “But here’s where it gets interesting. You cannot ask for repetition—whatever you hear, you must pass on exactly as you received it. Oh, and don’t try to outsmart the system by deliberately changing it. If you do, you might just cost your team the victory!”
- “By the time the message reaches the last person, we’ll see if it still resembles the original sentence. And remember, clarity is key—but in this game, even the slightest misinterpretation can change the entire meaning.”
- “The team that gets the most accurate final message wins. Let’s see if your team can survive the great translation challenge!”

5. Wrap up and Q & A (10 Minutes)
