Introduction

Certification In Generative AI In HR & L&D

For HR professionals and L&D specialists, the Generative AI in HR and Learning & Development Certification from GSDC is a specialized program. This certification allows professionals to gain core knowledge and skills to leverage generative AI for improving HR processes and employee training.

A generative AI certification in HR and L&D focuses on ways in which generative AI can be used to acquire talent, engage employees, and manage performance. It also sees how AI-driven natural language processing can renovate content creation and custom-made learning experiences in L&D. Professionals can also get insights into ethical considerations in HR AI and responsible AI integration.

Thus, this certification allows HR and L&D professionals to leverage generative AI for driving efficiencies in HR, employee development, and organization growth in modern work environments.

Certified Learning & Development Professional CLDP
I took the certification course "Certified Learning & Development Professional CLDP" approved by the GSDC - Global Skill Development Council. So grateful to the professional team at the GSDC for this enlightening opportunity; namely, Ruguozeno, for her dedication, responsiveness, and constant support throughout this learning journey. And very special thanks to the amazing trainer and coach Deepak Sharma for the great weekly live sessions which I believe are the highlight of this certification programme. His knowledge, expertise, and outstanding skills have made the course very insightful, engaging, and enjoyable!
