

Koenig Solutions has made employee-friendly HR practices a cornerstone of its organizational policy

Singapore : India's leading IT training institute Koenig Solutions has been honored at the prestigious CMO Asia Awards for its innovative HR practices that make employee happiness the cornerstone of the organization's policy.

Koenig Solutions was awarded the "Organization with Innovative HR Practices" at the sixth edition of the prestigious Asia's Best Employer Brand Award at a ceremony held at Singapore this week. On behalf of Koenig Solutions, Mr. Sanjay Manocha, Manager, Branding & Marketing Communications, received the award.

Asia's Best Employer Brand Award is hosted by Employer Branding Institute, World HRD Congress and Stars of the Industry Group, & Endorsed by Asian Confederation of Business.

At the grand event held at Pan Pacific, Singapore, awards were given out in 33 individual and 38 organizational categories selected out of several nominations from countries such as India, Malaysia, Indonesia, Singapore, Sri Lanka, Thailand, Bangladesh participating at the event.

Koenig Solutions stands steadfast in its belief that happy employees form the bedrock of a successful organization. With this realization, the organization has worked relentlessly to mould its HR policies towards ensuring maximum employee satisfaction.

"Koenig's culture and ethos have been created to encourage employees to feel cared for. That human resource is not to be treated as dispensable is our core belief. With this idea in mind, we have over the years adopted a series of innovative HR policies such as encouraging better work-life balance, following a strong approach to meritocracy and a inculcating a happiness paradigm in our everyday culture. We are proud to be a happy organization and this award further encourages us to continue innovating on HR," says Ms. Sakshi Gaba Dhawan, Manager, Human Resource, Koenig Solutions.