The training facility is part of the company's continuing move to drive in more awareness on the importance of improving one's IT skills.

Located in Dubai's Knowledge Village, the new centre is being positioned as the learning pit-stop for more than 1,000 students, with 85% coming from the Gulf, Africa, Europe and US.

Koenig Dubai said it will be offering a diverse portfolio of world class IT-based courses, on its cyber security programmes like CEH, Microsoft Dynamics, SharePoint, Cisco Security, Project Management and Effective Leadership.

"We are proud to announce the opening of our new training centre in Dubai, which is expected to address the demand for IT and cyber security learning courses in the region. This new state-of-the-art facility is expected to further consolidate our reputation as a leading provider of high quality IT education-opening our doors to students coming from the Middle East, the Gulf, Africa, Europe and the US," said Rohit Aggarwal, CEO and founder, Koenig Solutions Limited.

Aggarwal added: "Aside from giving them the opportunity of advancing their IT skills, our course offerings also include local tourism to nearby attractive destinations, thus offering best education and tourism at the same time. We remain highly confident that the opening of this new training institute will not only produce more IT experts for the region but will also play a key role in the efforts to improve the IT skills of today's corporate workers."
